Bottled Beer

Stag Pale Ale (Ballyvourney)

€6.00

The malt character of Stag Saor Pale Ale gluten free beer is more subdued by using a lager malt, this gives a lighter colour and body compared to other pale ales, this gives the hop character somewhere to shine, similar to our Stag Bán the hops are late in the boil which gives more aroma and flavour with less bitterness. The hop profile is of citrus with a slight floral aroma.

Saor (Gluten Free) (Ballyvourney)

Using clever brewing techniques, the brewers have denatured the gluten contained in the malt to create a crisp, light, smooth and thirst quenching quality craft beer, which is now below 20 ppm gluten.

Premium Irish Whiskies

Blends

Typically a blend of triple distilled pot still and grain whiskeys. Smooth yet robust, excellent with a few drops of water, as well as for Irish coffee and Hot Irish. Warm cereal notes, lots of spice and a touch of honey.

The Pogues €7.00

Temple Bar 10 Year Old €7.50

Grace O'Malley €8.00

Single Malt

Irish Single Malt whiskey is aged in oak for at least three years, and must be distilled from a mash of nothing other than malted barley at a single distillery.

Glendalough 13Yr Old €11.00

Tipperary Knockmealdowns 10 Year Old €10.50

Knappogue Castle 14 Year Old €11.50

Single Grain

Single grain whiskey is made in a single distillery, from unmalted grains – most often barley, corn or wheat. The flavours and aromas of grain whiskeys tend to be softer and lighter (even borderline neutral) than those of malts. Because of this, most grain whiskey is blended with malt whiskey to produce blended whiskey. When used in this way, grain whiskey adds volume to the blend, and rounds out the sharpness of the malt whiskey nicely.

The Wild Geese €8.50

Teelings Single Grain Whiskey €10.00
